THE EMPLOYER ROLE IN RESTORING TRUST

1

Trust your people

Trusting employees is essential to winning their trust in you. To show your trust, actively seek out their views, act on their input and make decisions with transparency.

2

Address societal issues

Maintain your commitment to address societal issues even in the face of economic uncertainty, and give your people societal impact through their work. Employers must take meaningful action on climate change, fair wages, job training and inclusivity.

Bridge divides

Create an environment of mutual trust and civility in the workplace, and offer resources, reliable information and training to help employees navigate contentious issues both inside the workplace and beyond.

4

Restore societal trust from the workplace out

Set the tone for civil discourse publicly, and encourage your employees to be ambassadors for civility in their interactions outside the workplace.

TECHNICAL APPENDIX

SAMPLE TARGETS EXPLAINED: DETERMINING THE EMPLOYEE SAMPLE

We conducted a six-year historical analysis using data collected from the Edelman Trust Barometer (2016 - 2022) and Special Report: May Updates (2020 - 2022) to establish sample targets representative of each market's employee population.*

We looked at the natural fallout of employees in each market since 2016 across key demographics: Gender, age, region, and ethnicity (where applicable). We then averaged the natural fallout percentages across years for each demographic subgroup (for example, men versus women) to determine the targets for each market.

We defined the employee population as anyone who is employed full- or part-time, regardless if they are self employed or work for an organization. The data shown in this report is a subset of the sample collected, containing only those that are employed by an organization.*

DATA ANALYSES EXPLAINED: JOB LEVELS

Respondents were asked:

Which of the following best describes your position or level within your company or organization? The answer options to this question are shown below:

Sr. Managers	1. Senior executive level (CEO, President, etc.) 2. Executive level (General Manager, Executive Vice President, Executive Director, etc.) 3. Upper-level management (Senior Vice President, Vice President, Senior Director, etc.)
Managers	4. Mid-level management (Director, Senior Manager, etc.) 5. Lower-level management (Supervisor, Associate Manager, etc.)
Non-management	6. Experienced (Non-manager) 7. Entry level 9. Other 99. Don't know/ refused

Respondents who answered a 1, 2 or 3 are considered “Sr. Managers,” those who answered a 4 or 5 are considered “Managers,” and those who said a 6 or 7 are considered “Non-management.”

Those that said a 9 or 99 are not included in the job level segments.

DATA ANALYSES EXPLAINED: JOB INSECURITY

Respondents were asked:

How likely do you feel it is that you will be laid off from your job by the end of this year? The answer options to this question are shown below:

Job secure	1. It is extremely unlikely I will be laid off from my job
	2. It is somewhat unlikely I will be laid off from my job
Job insecure	3. It is neither unlikely nor likely I will be laid off from my job
	4. It is somewhat likely I will be laid off from my job
	5. It is extremely likely I will be laid off from my job
	99. Don't know / Not sure

Respondents who answered a 1 or 2 are considered “job secure.” Those who answered a 3, 4, or 5 are considered “job insecure.”

Those that said 99 are not included in the job insecurity segments.

DATA ANALYSES EXPLAINED: WORKPLACE COMFORT

Respondents were asked:

How comfortable would you be with having a conversation about the following issues with someone in your workplace whom you disagreed with about that issue? Each of the issues was rated on a nine-point scale, where one means, “not comfortable at all” and nine means, “extremely comfortable.”

List of issues:

Climate change

Racism and discrimination

Reproductive rights

Gender equality

LGBTQIA+ rights

We then created a work comfort segment by averaging respondents’ answers on the 1-9 scale across all five issues. Respondents’ whose average score was between 6.00-9.00 on this scale were classified as comfortable at work.

DATA ANALYSES EXPLAINED: INCREASED LIKELIHOOD TO TRUST ONE'S EMPLOYER

To investigate the impact of employer performance on employer trust, we took respondents' answers to 39 employer attributes* across three questions to get a performance score for each.

Questions included in the analysis:

CONVO_CONF: For each of the following, please indicate whether it is true of the organization you work for or not. (Please select one response for each.) Code 1, Yes this is true of my organization.

EMP_VAL: Thinking about your current employer, to what extent do you agree with the following statements? (Please select one response for each.) 9-point scale, top 4 box, agree.

PER_EMP: How well do you believe your employer is currently doing each of the following? Please indicate your answer using the 5-point scale below. (Please select one response for each.) 5-point scale, top 2 box, doing well.
